The University is steadfastly dedicated to the belief that a quality, values-based education enriches the human condition by engendering community engagement, scholarly accomplishment, and professionalism.

Washington, D.C.

Trinity Washington University (Women's College)

Over a century ago, Trinity College was founded by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur as the nation's first Catholic liberal arts college for women. The Sisters of Notre Dame had a vision of an institution for women, built on a challenging liberal arts curriculum that assumed that women are the intellectual equal of men, and composed of a student body national in scope. Today, as Trinity moves forward into its second century, the work and beliefs of the community of the Sisters of Notre Dame live on as Trinity continues to educate women of all ages in the College of Arts and Sciences and to both women and men in the School of Professional Studies and School of Education. Beginning with the first graduating class of 1904, the mission of Trinity has been realized in the lives of her graduates, women whose accomplishments range from the halls of Congress to board rooms, classrooms and courtrooms, laboratories and artists' studios, town hall meetings and family dinner tables.

Florida

Broward College

Broward College, the first and largest institution of higher education in Broward County, has the second-largest enrollment of the 28 members of the Florida College System and a proud history of providing higher education to a diverse student body. Miami Dade College

Today, more than 175,000 students attend Miami Dade College, a state-supported college with seven campuses, two centers and numerous outreach centers. We are the largest institution of higher education in the United States and one of the most highly regarded colleges in the nation. Each of our campuses has its own distinct identity and specialties. But, they also offer a broad base of general education courses, allowing you to take first-year classes at any of our campuses (except the Medical Campus). That means you get to decide what campus you want to attend. Take all of your first-year classes at one campus, or follow the path of some of our working students and take morning classes near your home and evening and weekend classes near your place of work. As you begin to take more advanced courses, you may need to focus your studies at a specific campus where your program is offered.

Illinois

DePaul University (Limited Scholarships Available)

DePaul University is the nation's largest Catholic university, with about 25,000 students and about 300 degree programs. Its partnerships throughout Chicago enable DePaul to provide an exceptional educational experience that is vibrant, pragmatic and socially engaged. Classes are small and taught by knowledgeable and experienced faculty members who take full advantage of Chicago's corporate, cultural and community resources. DePaul is nationally recognized for incorporating service learning throughout its curriculum and for the academic rigor and prominence of its programs. Founded in 1898 by the Congregation of the Mission (Vincentians), DePaul's tradition of providing a quality education to students from a broad range of backgrounds, with particular attention to first-generation students, has resulted in one of the nation's most diverse student bodies. With ten colleges and schools, DePaul has campuses in Chicago's Loop and Lincoln Park neighborhoods, three suburban locations, and degree programs in several nations. It is a member of the BIG EAST Conference in Division I sports.

Offering more than 50 undergraduate degrees, Dominican University has been recognized by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top 15 regional universities in the Midwest as well as an exceptional financial value. Rooted in the traditional liberal arts, Dominican also appreciates the importance of career development and provides incoming freshmen with career and academic assessment tools, experiential learning programs, and access to knowledgeable career peer advisors to help them design meaningful career paths. A designated Hispanic Serving Institution, Dominican University is regarded as a national leader for its advocacy and support for undocumented students and has established a privately funded scholarship program to assist academically qualified students.

Loyola University Chicago – Arrupe College

Loyola University Chicago pioneered an alternative approach to the traditional four-year college programs with the opening of Arrupe College. The purpose of Arrupe College is to make higher education more accessible and affordable to students from low-income and first generation families. Designed to successfully bridge the gap between under-resourced high schools and four-year institutions of higher learning, this new college offers low income students the tightly structured curriculum and positive social structure they need to achieve a college degree-without the burden of debt. In fact, it is expected that at least 90 percent of Arrupe College students will carry no debt after they complete the program. The curriculum is lean, focused and designed to help students meet all the requirements of the Illinois General Education Core Curriculum (GECC) while preparing them to enter any of Illinois' four-year Institutions to complete their bachelor's degree.

National Louis University

National Louis University (NLU) is one of the oldest and most progressive universities in Chicago offering more than 60 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Founded in 1886, NLU was built on the principle that a quality education can transform lives, careers and communities. The University takes pride in being one of the most diverse in the Midwest, helping students of all ages and backgrounds achieve their personal and professional goals. In fact, NLU was recognized by the 2013 U.S. News & World Report rankings as one of the top 25 most diverse national universities. This diversity is evident in NLU's student population, which is 49% minority. NLU also enrolls a large population of first-generation college students and has recently developed a unique supportive program called the Harrison Professional Pathways Program, making a quality education affordable for nearly everyone. National Louis serves more than 7,500 students at six locations in Illinois and Florida, and at our global business school in Nowy Sacz, Poland.

Northeastern Illinois University (Limited Scholarships Available)

Founded in 1867, NEIU has a rich tradition of educational innovation and prides itself on preparing teachers and administrators who make a difference in Chicago. That tradition continues to this day and has expanded to include an array of academic disciplines, allowing the University to embrace fully the community in which it resides. NEIU is regarded as the most diverse public comprehensive university in the Midwest and is designated by the United States Department of Education as a Hispanic Serving Institution. Diversity is an important factor in the character of this urban institution and in the social fabric of the student body. NEIU has an enrollment of 11,500 students, and ALANA students represent nearly 60% of the student body. Located on 67 acres in an attractive residential area on the northwest side of Chicago, the University offers more than 80 undergraduate and graduate programs in the arts, sciences, education, and business. The University has additional locations in the metropolitan area: The Carruthers Center for Inner city Studies, El Centro, and the Center for College Access and Success (formerly the Chicago Teachers' Center). The University is also a founding member of the University Center of Lake County consortium campus in suburban Lake County, north of Chicago. Newsweek magazine named Northeastern Illinois University the sixth "Best Investment" in the United States and number one in Illinois. Northeastern shares the top-ten spot with Harvard, Stanford, Princeton and MIT.

The College is committed to fostering student-centered education and advancing knowledge through scholarly research. As a public university with public purposes, it also seeks to contribute to the cultural, social, and economic life of New York.

College of Staten Island

Grounded in the Liberal Arts tradition, the College of Staten Island is committed to the highest standards in teaching, research, and scholarship. Drawing on the rich heritage of The City University of New York that has provided access to excellence in higher education since 1847, the College of Staten Island offers that same opportunity in New York City's Borough of Staten Island. The College is dedicated to helping its students fulfill their creative, aesthetic, and educational aspirations through competitive and rigorous undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. We embrace the strength of our diversity, foster civic mindedness, and nurture responsible citizens for our city, country, and the world.

York College

York College's hallmark academic programs in liberal arts and sciences are recognized as centers of excellence within CUNY, attracting and graduating some of the best and most highly motivated students from New York City and the greater New York area. York College has established itself as a model for enabling first generation college students to earn an undergraduate degree, and fulfill students' individual academic goals while preparing them for graduate education and the competitive marketplace. We offer multiple opportunities for student engagement, inquiry and research-based scholarship, and experiential learning. York maintains a vibrant campus where students actively participate in extra-curricular programs and collaborate with faculty and academic peers whose backgrounds are distinctly different from their own.

Texas

Dallas

Dallas Community County College District

Educating students, preparing a skilled workforce and serving area communities are major goals set by the Dallas County Community College District. DCCCD serves more than 83,000 credit and 25,000 continuing education students who are enrolled at one of its seven individually-accredited colleges. Four of its colleges are Partner Colleges: Cedar Valley, Eastfield, El Centro, and Richland. Offering more than 120 programs that lead to associate degrees and professional certificates, DCCCD's diverse student body reflects the faces and needs of the communities it serves. DCCCD educates students and prepares them for good jobs in the workforce or for transfer to area colleges and universities where they can earn other credentials and degrees. Residency status is not a barrier to enrollment. Prospective students who have lived in Dallas County for a minimum of 12 months may qualify for tuition of $59 per credit hour (books not included), or $177 for a three-hour course. The cost for continuing education (or non-credit) courses is not affected by residency status. Students who have lived in Texas for a minimum of three years may qualify for financial aid from the state of Texas.

"Building the American dream one student at a time."

University of North Texas at Dallas

UNT Dallas is the first and only public university in the city. Because we are close to downtown Dallas (our hilltop campus offers a commanding view of the skyline), we feel uniquely connected to the city and region we serve. But being in a large city does not make us a "metropolitan university." We are a metropolitan university because we reflect the social makeup and diversity of Dallas and the surrounding region. Our student body is already among the most diverse in the nation, and we believe diversity enhances the university experience. As a metropolitan university, we believe that our educational efforts must extend beyond the traditional walls of the University. They must reach into the community we serve, and through service learning we believe more students will be attracted to higher education. In short, metropolitan universities like ours produce thoughtful and contributing citizens who can help build educational legacies in families and communities.

El Paso

El Paso Community College District

El Paso Community College District offers over 130 programs of study to earn associate's degrees at its five campuses located throughout El Paso County. 2+2 options are available and students are guaranteed admission to a four-year college with full junior level status. The College also offers cutting-edge technology, ultra-modern training facilities, and innovative learning options. EPCC has been ranked in the Community College Week as 1st amongst nearly 1,200 community colleges in awarding associate degrees to Hispanic students, and 16th overall of all colleges and universities; EPCC has also recently been awarded the 2013 Higher Education Excellence in Diversity (HEED) award from INSIGHT Into Diversity magazine's November 2013 issue, the oldest and largest diversity-focused publication in higher education.

University of Texas at El Paso

University of Texas at El Paso is located on the border of the United States and Mexico. UTEP students live and study in the world's largest bi-national metropolitan area, unlike any other university setting. Despite recent problems in neighboring Juarez, El Paso consistently ranks as one of the safest cities of its size in the U.S. UTEP is a dynamic urban university that serves more than 22,700 students enrolled in 75 bachelor's, 78 master's and 19 doctoral programs. UTEP is recognized nationally for its leadership role in changing the face of U.S. higher education. Its students, who are 77% Hispanic, mirror the population of the region and, increasingly, that of Texas and the United States. UTEP's success in serving as a catalyst for economic development and quality of life in this region has also placed us in the national spotlight as a model 21st century U.S. research university.

El Rio Grande

South Texas College

"Building the American dream one student at a time."

Founded in 1993, South Texas College awards baccalaureate and associate degrees. More than 30,000 students attend STC and a faculty and staff of more than 1,600 serve STC's five campuses in McAllen, Mid-Valley, and Rio Grande City or online anywhere you have Internet access. STC offers more than 100 programs of study that lead to high-demand, high-growth careers and take as little as 1 to 2 years to complete. STC's credits transfer so you can take your education wherever you want to go. eSTC offers a variety of online courses, as well as 14 associate degrees and 4 certificates that you can earn completely online. STC offers strong student support services in advising, tutoring, career planning and placement and disability services. This contributes to the fact that many STC graduates accomplish their educational and career goals by finding jobs in their field or transferring to earn a bachelor's degree or higher.

University of Texas Rio Grande Valley \(Pan American\)

The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley was created by the Texas Legislature in 2013 in a historic move that brings together the resources and assets of UT Brownsville and UT Pan American and, for the first time, makes it possible for residents of the Rio Grande Valley to benefit from the Permanent University Fund—a public endowment contributing support to the University of Texas System and the Texas A&M University System. Innovation. Opportunity. Purpose. Careers. That's what the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley is about. With campuses throughout the Valley, UTRGV empowers successful futures, enhances daily life, and lets our region shine as a global innovator in higher education, bilingual education, health education, biomedical research, and emerging technology that inspires positive change.

York College has established itself as a model for enabling first generation college students to earn an undergraduate degree, and fulfill students' individual academic goals while preparing them for graduate education and the competitive marketplace. We offer multiple opportunities for student engagement, inquiry and research-based scholarship, and experiential learning. York maintains a vibrant campus where students actively participate in extra-curricular programs and collaborate with faculty and academic peers whose backgrounds are distinctly different from their own.

Texas

Dallas

University of North Texas at Dallas

UNT Dallas is the first and only public university in the city. Because we are close to downtown Dallas (our hilltop campus offers a commanding view of the skyline), we feel uniquely connected to the city and region we serve. But being in a large city does not make us a "metropolitan university." We are a metropolitan university because we reflect the social makeup and diversity of Dallas and the surrounding region. Our student body is already among the most diverse in the nation, and we believe diversity enhances the university experience. As a metropolitan university, we believe that our educational efforts must extend beyond the traditional walls of the University. They must reach into the community we serve, and through service learning we believe more students will be attracted to higher education. In short, metropolitan universities like ours produce thoughtful and contributing citizens who can help build educational legacies in families and communities.

El Paso

University of Texas at El Paso

University of Texas at El Paso is located on the border of the United States and Mexico. UTEP students live and study in the world's largest bi-national metropolitan area, unlike any other university setting. Despite recent problems in neighboring Juarez, El Paso consistently ranks as one of the safest cities of its size in the U.S. UTEP is a dynamic urban university that serves more than 22,700 students enrolled in 75 bachelor's, 78 master's and 19 doctoral programs. UTEP is recognized nationally for its leadership role in changing the face of U.S. higher education. Its students, who are 77% Hispanic, mirror the population of the region and, increasingly, that of Texas and the United States. UTEP's success in serving as a catalyst for economic development and quality of life in this region has also placed us in the national spotlight as a model 21st century U.S. research university.

El Rio Grande

University of Texas Rio Grande Valley \(Pan American\)

The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley was created by the Texas Legislature in 2013 in a historic move that brings together the resources and assets of UT Brownsville and UT Pan American and, for the first time, makes it possible for residents of the Rio Grande Valley to benefit from the Permanent University Fund—a public endowment contributing support to the University of Texas System and the Texas A&M University System. Innovation. Opportunity. Purpose. Careers. That's what the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley is about. With campuses throughout the Valley, UTRGV empowers successful futures, enhances daily life, and lets our region shine as a global innovator in higher education, bilingual education, health education, biomedical research, and emerging technology that inspires positive change.

Houston

University of Texas at Tyler – Houston Engineering Center

The University of Texas at Tyler is part of the prestigious University of Texas System that includes nine university and six health institutions located throughout the state. Founded in 1971, UT Tyler today enrolls more than 8,000 students and consists of six colleges. In 2012, UT Tyler began offering their upper division engineering classes in Houston in partnership with Houston Community College. This partnership provides an affordable and seamless pathway to a four-year degree in mechanical, electrical or civil engineering for students in Houston. Students can take lower-division courses at HCC and upper-division courses from UT Tyler at the Houston Engineering Center, located on the HCC Alief-Hayes Road Campus. By so doing, total cost of tuition for a four-year engineering degree is under $20,000. This is important as many UT-Tyler HEC students hold part-time and full-time jobs during the day and then take classes that are offered at night to accommodate their work schedules. This combination of affordability and convenience is unique in Houston. Our students are also unique. They represent a wide range of ethnic backgrounds – dominated by Latino, African American and Asian heritages. Many are first generation, first in their family to go to college individuals. By offering UT Tyler upper division engineering courses in urban Houston, the Houston Engineering Center has created a new and unique pathway for filling the projected shortage of engineers in Houston, Texas and more generally, across the United States.

University of Houston \(Main Campus\)

Founded in 1927, the University of Houston (UH) is a public, four-year institution with over 39,000 students. All faculty and staff are committed to providing nationally competitive and internationally recognized opportunities for learning, discovery and engagement to a diverse population of students in a real-world setting. As Texas' third-largest university, its campus spans over 660 acres in southeast Houston. UH is the second most diverse university in the nation, and was named both a Hispanic-Serving Institution and an Asian-American Serving Institution in 2012. Classified by the Carnegie Foundation, the University is one of only three Tier One public research universities in Texas. The U.S. News & World Report ranks the university No. 190 (Tier 1) in its

"Building the American dream one student at a time."

National University Rankings, and No. 108 among top public universities. UH offers over 300 degree programs through its 12 academic colleges on campus—including programs leading to professional degrees in law, optometry, and pharmacy. The institution conducts nearly $130 million annually in research, and operates more than 40 research centers and institutes on campus. UH has over 500 student organizations and 16 intercollegiate sports teams. Annual UH events and traditions include The Cat's Back, Homecoming, and Frontier Fiesta. The university's varsity athletic teams, known as the Houston Cougars, are members of the American Athletic Conference and compete in the NCAA's Division I in all sports.

Virginia

George Mason University

Kaplan University

Kaplan University provides innovative, student-centered undergraduate, graduate, and continuing professional education. We design our programs to meet the unique needs of adult learners, helping them launch, enhance, or change careers in a diverse global society. At Kaplan University, we understand the challenges DREAMers face in pursuing higher education, such as juggling the competing demands of work and home or being the first member of your family to attend college. Our outcomes-focused education helps nontraditional students take charge of life, build skills, and strive to achieve their dreams. We seek to be a lifelong partner to DREAMers, delivering a best-in-class educational experience with an unmatched commitment to student success.

Private Colleges Scholarship Program

TheDream.US has partnered with three selective private colleges to support a limited number of highly talented Dreamers in pursuing an exceptional liberal arts education, irrespective of their family's ability to pay. Each of these the colleges listed below will nominate Dreamers from their college applicant pool to be considered for TheDream.US Scholarship.

If you are a high academic performer and you are interested in attending one of these 3 selective private Partner Colleges, we encourage you to apply to the college before the January 2016 application deadlines. After you have submitted your application to the college, please send an email to the contact listed below and let them know that you are a DACA student who has applied for admission to the college and that you would like to be considered for nomination for TheDream.US Scholarship Program.

The college will let you know if it has nominated you to apply for TheDream.US Scholarship. If you receive the Scholarship but are not accepted to the college or choose not to attend, you will be able to use the Scholarship at any of our other Partner Colleges (assuming you are eligible for in-state tuition and accepted to the college).

Davidson College: Kortni Campbell at kocampbell@davidson.edu

Davidson College seeks out intellectually curious students who are committed to developing their talents for lives of leadership and service. Small classes enable our renowned faculty to work closely with students, engaging them directly in original research and creative work across the arts, sciences, social sciences, and humanities. In the classroom and beyond, Davidson cultivates students' compassion, creativity, resilience, and moral courage. We nurture these values in a community founded on trust as articulated by the Honor Code and on free, unfettered inquiry. The Davidson Trust supports our campus-wide commitments to access and equal opportunity. Nearly one-quarter of our students compete in Division I athletics, and 80 percent of our students study or work internationally during their Davidson careers. These rich and distinguished offerings enable Davidson graduates to thrive in a global society and exert disproportionate impact for good.
