

Dr. Christine Alexander, has been a physician with the MetroHealth System since 1997 and assumed the position of Department Chair after previously serving as Director of Maternal and Newborn Education, Residency Program Director and Case Western Reserve University Family Medicine Clerkship Director. She has served as the Medical Director of MetroHealth's School Health Program since its inception.

Dr. Alexander has devoted her career to serving those who struggle with access to care through family system, cultural, language or financial barriers. Her background includes community and home based care as well as care for the homeless. She is a big believer in giving medical care back to the people. In addition to her role in school health, she serves as the Co-Primary Investigator on a state funded grant whose goal is to attract, train and retain providers who care for under-served populations.

Dr. Alexander is involved in Family Medicine leadership on a national level through the Family Medicine Education Consortium, Society of Teachers of Family Medicine and The Association of Departments of Family Medicine. For the past eight years, Dr. Alexander has been the Co-Facilitator for the Family Medicine Education Consortium Northeast annual meeting and is the President Elect of that organization's Board of Directors. She has been the recipient of numerous awards for program innovation, clinical care and teaching.
